

I support the freedom of the media. however, should a commercial be run as a documentary, I believe that the fairness doctrine should apply, and equal time be offered. I believe this is a very unusual and unscrupulous usage of a large media conglomerate to influence the public for its own agenda. This violates a free and democratic process, for which this current administration is so fond of telling us it promotes.